Explore the top products across our ranges from customers in 2023.

We invite you to join us on a journey through the most coveted selections of 2023, as we unveil the top products from our ranges that captivated the hearts (and homes) of our customers.

These products not only showcase our commitment to enduring quality, but also underscore our dedication to presenting timeless designs.

As we start the story for 2024, we are excited to see what you will choose in your bathroom. Above all, we continue to commit to delivering quality, Australian made furniture, like we've been doing for 17 years.

Vanities

At the foundation of any exceptional bathroom is a great vanity. See what cabinets topped the charts for 2023, defining the epitome of style and functionality in contemporary bathroom design.

Nevada

The desire for personalised bathrooms without breaking the bank kept the Nevada at the forefront. Its generous size range and wide spectrum of colour options catered perfectly to the year's mix-and-match trends, letting homeowners craft their unique space.

Sutherland House Collection

2023 craved both statement pieces and clever functionality, and the Sutherland House Collection, designed by Shaynna Blaze, hit the sweet spot. Its five distinct routes, from the energetic Caprio to the timeless Regency, catered to every design personality, while hidden drawers and clear storage solutions echoed the year's love for organisational elegance.

Elwood

The Elwood's fluted front options tapped into the years trend for textured cabinets. Offered in both paint and woodgrain finishes, the vanity infused spaces with it's modern coastal elegance.

Shaving Cabinets

Discover the shaving cabinets that stole the spotlight in 2023, not only meeting practical storage needs but redefining the aesthetics of bathroom spaces.

1 Tennessee

2 Denver

3 Sanremo
The Sanremo shaver struck that ideal balance between showcasing what you want and concealing what you don't, giving customers control over their bathroom aesthetic without losing precious storage space.

4 Jazz Arch

5 Church

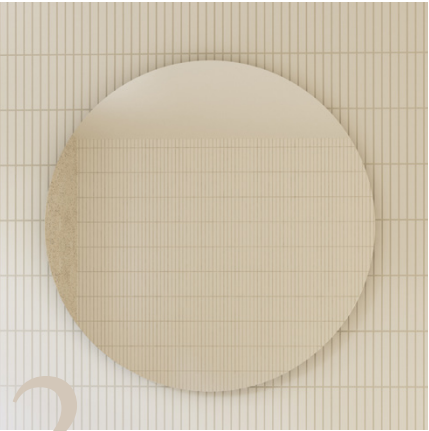

Mirrors

From playful curves to modern minimalism, these mirrors reigned supreme in '23. They weren't just reflective surfaces but essential elements that added depth and character to spaces.

Jazz Arch

For 2023, interior aesthetics leaned towards soft curves and inviting vibes, and the Jazz Arch mirror perfectly captured that essence. Its dreamy, curved corners added a touch of elegance, transforming spaces into a sanctuary of self-care.

2 Oxford

3 Church

4 Halifax

Miami

The simple geometric shape of the Miami mirror answered the call for clean lines and modern minimalism. It's subtle frame added just the right touch of visual interest without stealing the show.

Tallboys

2023 embraced the idea that beautiful and functional could go hand-in-hand. These tallboys emerged as the epitome of this blend, offering storage solutions without compromising the overall aesthetic of the space.

1

Hudson

Its clean lines and push-to-open doors created a seamless look that resonated perfectly with the year's aesthetic trends. Its ample concealed storage space swallowed up towels, toiletries, and bathroom essentials, leaving spaces calm and clutter-free.

2

Lincoln

With the option to add a removable laundry basket to the bottom compartment and a mirrored front to the top, the Lincoln tallboy made it's way as a practical addition to bathrooms.

Basins

The top 10 basins from 2023 support a simplistic form, from the grace of above counter models to the understated elegance of undermount designs, and from playful textures to the timeless appeal of smooth finishes.

1 Allure

2 Radius

Elite

'23 craved fluidity and natural forms, and the Elite basin's gentle oval shape with a soft curve echoed this desire perfectly. Available in three finishes, the Elite ensured every homeowner could find the perfect basin for their space.

Myrtle

The Myrtle's gentle curved ends added a touch of softness and elegance to bathroom spaces in 2023, while its generous capacity ensured it remained practical, offering ample hand washing space without sacrificing its aesthetic appeal.
